MAY 20-23, 2019

PRE-CONFERENCE SCHEDULE SUNDAY, MAY 19TH FROM 3:00 - 5:00PM

Part I of III: Voices for Choice - Awakening: Taking Back Our Guiding Principles - Advocacy in Action Croisan Creek A

The Oregon Consumer / Psychiatric Survivor Coalition is inviting you to "Unite in Passionate Action" - Justin Dart, Jr. as we launch the Voices for Choice campaign. "The core of our advocacy was born from oppression and violation of our human rights and cognitive liberty." -Rebecca Edens, President OCSC. This is an opportunity to engage in an interactive dialog with seasoned advocates having over 100 years' combined experience effecting real change. Panelists will identify different kinds of advocacy and show you ways that you can use your voice. "People are getting too far away from the idea of freedom." -Scott Snedecor. Without voice we cannot get to choice and self-determination. Bear witness to what choice and freedom mean to you! Sponsored by OCSC (Oregon Consumer / Psychiatric Survivor Coalition).

Motivational Interviewing for Peers with Michael Razavi Croisan Creek B

Microskills are helpful with clients and client's outcomes. This training will cover:

- Asking Open Ended Questions, Giving Affirmations,
- Forming Reactions (Repeating, Paraphrase,
- Summaries and how to respond to ambivalence using a decisional balance

Peerzone with Adrienne Scavera Croisan Creek C

Come learn about PeerZone, a series of peer-led workshops, and experience some of its unique activities! The PeerZone workshops explore distress, recovery, and all the major life domains such as lifestyle, relationships, housing, and employment. These workshops are a combination of peer support and recovery education. This event will explain Peerzone and include the chance to participate in one of its workshops!

PRE-CONFERENCE SCHEDULE SUNDAY, MAY 19TH FROM 6:00 - 8:00PM

Whose Life is it Anyway? Improv as a Recovery Tool with Kari Smit

Croisan Creek A

Many of us have watched "Whose Line Is It Anyway?" but did you know improv was invented by a social worker? Through this art form, we can learn life skills that parallel those taught in mental health therapies, including mindfulness, acceptance and commitment, and how to improve the moment. Come nerd out about how improve rewires your brain (neuroplasticity, anyone?) as you learn improv games to play in supportive peer environments for humor and healing.

Hearing Voices Network Mini-Training with John Herold

Croisan Creek B

This workshop is an introduction to HVN facilitation skills. Participants will learn practical techniques they can use when working with any kind of group. These ideas are also useful when navigating our own life experiences. We will focus on exploring meaning rather than adhering to psychiatric labels. We will come together as experts-by-experience, learning about HVN's history, its charter and values, as well as core concepts that make Hearing Voices groups so innovative and unique.

MAT Mistaken Beliefs with Eric Martin

Croisan Creek C

This two-hour preconference workshop covers mistaken beliefs that individuals often have regarding Medication Assisted Treatment. This class will explore peer beliefs about MAT from the 2018 Oregon Behavioral Health Workforce Survey, and audience participation through clickers. Participants will learn research based facts regarding MAT and how it supports long-term recovery. Eric Martin is Director of MAAPPs The MetroPlus Association of Addiction Peer Professionals. Eric Martin, MAC, CADC III, PRC, CPS, is co-author of numerous peer resource manuals, including the SUD Peer Supervision Competencies.
